Burton S. Flagg of the Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance company is in New Hampshire on a business trip.

The employees of the Tyer Rubber company will hold their annual picnic at Paragon park on Saturday, August 26th.

At a meeting of the selectmen, on Monday, John Schofield was appointed a special police officer to serve over July fourth.

Misses Jean Dundas and Annie McKenzie are spending the week with their brothers Alexander Dundas and George McKenzie, in Moosup, Conn.

The pulpit of the Free church will be supplied until August by Rev. Markham W. Stackpole, associate pastor of the Central church in Boston.

Miss Lillian C. Dodge has left the employ of the Andover Press and is spending a few weeks with Herbert H. Hill and family at South Waterboro, Me.

Miss Dorothy B. Logan is attending the Hyannis State Normal summer school. She has been appointed to her third year as teacher in South Deerfield.

Francis Bergstrom, attorney and counsellor at law, announces that he has removed his offices to Nos. 405 and 406 State Mutual Building, Worcester, Telephone 140.

Superintendent of Streets Lovejoy has had the ledge removed from the Cutler road, and pleasure riders will find no further difficulties in driving over that route.

The recently elected officers of Andover lodge No. 230, I. O. O. F., will be installed next Wednesday evening by Jesse M. Prescott and suite of Methuen. A collation will be served after the work.

Flags were at half mast on several of the public buildings and residences on Wednesday in memory of the late John Hay, secretary of State, who was buried in Cleveland, O., on Wednesday afternoon.

There will be a meeting of the Fourth of July committees in the lower Town hall this evening at eight o'clock. All persons having bills against the celebration are requested to present them at this meeting.

Alexander Dick is visiting at the home of his parents on Cuba street. Mr. Dick who graduated from Oberlin College, Ohio this year has been honored by being appointed instructor in English Literture and Composition in Oberlin Academy.

Joseph A. Smart left Andover on Wednesday evening for the Lewis & Clark Exposition in Portland, Oregon. He went as a representative of the Tewksbury hospital and was accompanied by another member of the board of trustees.

A driving horse owned by B. F. Holt ran away shortly after six o'clock on Wednesday evening, on Essex street, and was stopped near Hardy & Cole's yard by Charles Hill. The animal in its mad run collided with a tree but luckily did not break anything. The horse is a new one and very spirited.

Frank Kendall, who is employed by Hardy & Cole, met with a painful accident on Thursday morning while working in the Guild building. He was moving a printing press with another workman when suddenly a lever, which is connected with the machine, flew up, pinning his fingers between it and another part of the machine. Both hands were badly bruised, two fingers on one hand being broken.

The Epworth League will entertain the C. E. society of the Friends society of Lawrence, Saturday afternoon and evening.

A number of the local Good Templers will be present at the institution of Merrimack Valley District Lodge in Pythian Hall, next Saturday afternoon and evening.

William Lake in the employ of the Andover Ice Company, met with quite a painful accident Thursday forenoon. He slipped and fell on an ice pick and cut his side badly. Dr Conroy is in attendance.

The Fourth passed off very quietly in the Village this year. The young men deserve special credit for their very successful bonfire on the Plains. It was 25 or 30 feet high and when burning presented a very pretty sight. No one was seriously hurt this year and the boys as a rule were quite orderly. The Independence Drum Corps played in the procession in Andover and created a very favorable impression by their fine work.

Wedding.

HORAN—DEAN.

The marriage of Miss Frances Gertrude Horan and Thomas Ignatus Dean took place Monday forenoon at 9 o'clock at St. Joseph's church. Father James J. Dean of Villanova College, a brother of the groom, celebrated nuptial mass. The wedding march was played by Mrs. George Fielding, a well known organist of Lawrence. Miss Margaret E. Horan, sister of the bride was bridesmaid and John Ganley of Lawrence was best man.

The bride was very beautifully gowned in a dress of white silk muslin and wore a veil fastened with a spray of orange blossoms. The bridesmaid was very prettily attired in pink silk muslin and carried a bouquet of daybreak pinks.

Thomas Horan and William Horan, cousins of the bride, acted as ushers at the church. Following the ceremony at the church a reception was held at the bride's home on Tewksbury street, from ten to four o'clock. Miss Minnie Linehan of Lawrence and Miss Mary Aherne of South Groveland acted as ushers at the house in a very charming manner. The presents were numerous and comprised many costly as well as useful gifts. The bride carried a white prayer book, the gift of her aunt, Sister M. Agnes Cotter.

Fined for Fishing.

On last Saturday five men were caught fishing in the Shawsheen river by Officers Clinton and Shattuck, and were brought before Judge Stone at eight o'clock on Saturday evening. They were all adjudged guilty and were fined $10 apiece. The men gave their names as Elizabeth Joseph, Cattean Deesere, Serne Esnes, Nonstcenkiste Arthur, Vanbellingham Flosimond, and Charles Lefebore.

On Sunday morning Officer Clinton arrested Emile Leclaire, of Lawrence, while fishing in the Shawsheen, and ordered him to appear before Judge Stone on Monday, when he was fined $10.

The Late John Hay, Secretary of State

First Became a World Famous Poet, Then a World Famous Statesman. Friend of Three Martyr Presidents — Greeley's Tribute.

THE late John Hay made a brave fight to recruit his physical energies and retain his strong grasp on affairs of state, but he had bravely carried an unusually heavy load of responsibility during part of three administrations and had done so in the face of advancing age and heavy domestic affliction. The death of his eldest son at Yale several years ago by falling from a window was a great blow to him. The rumors about his failing health were the subject of conversation between Mr. Hay and a friend not long since, and to the congratulations of his friend upon his excellent appearance the secretary said with assumed weariness, "Ah, yes; but I have an incurable disease."

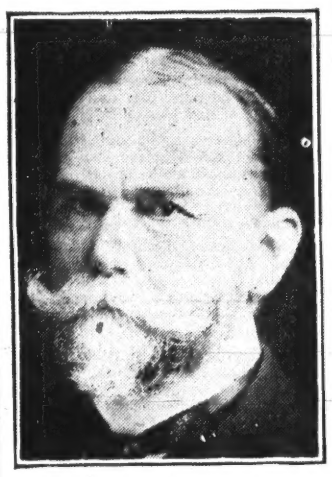

The friend inquired its name.

"Old age," replied the secretary.

John Hay was born in Salem, Ind., Oct. 8, 1838, therefore was not quite sixty-seven years old, and, though in many respects his life had been a happy one, though he had had an ideal home and for much of his life an ample fortune, severe afflictions came crowding hard one upon another. It is a singular fact that he should have been intimate with three presidents who met tragic deaths. In talking with a friend shortly after the death of McKinley he said:

"First it was Mr. Lincoln, then came General Garfield, and now it is Major McKinley who has fallen by the ruthless hand of the assassin. All three, as you know, were intimate friends of mine, with whom I was closely associated. When I think of those three great tragedies and of how much they have robbed me it seems as though I could not stand it."

It is about seven years since Mr. Hay became head of the state department and a member of the cabinet. The period includes such events and achievements as the Spanish war, the acquisition of the Philippines, with the new questions it involved; The Hague arbitration conference, the Venezuelan episode of 1902, the securing of the "open door" for trade in China, the Isthmian canal settlement, the Santo Domingo negotiations and diplomatic work of various sorts in connection with the Russo-Japanese war. It has been said that no secretary since Seward was called upon to meet so many difficult questions.

The versatility of Mr. Hay's character was the marvel of his friends, and by many he was regarded as the greatest diplomat of his generation. Yet he had attained wide fame in the literary world before he was heard of in the world of diplomacy. Horace Greeley once remarked that Hay was the most brilliant journalist who ever entered the Tribune office. He chose to be known as the author of "Castilian Days," but the people insisted upon remembering him as the author of "Jim Bludso," "Banty Tim" and "Little Breeches."

In 1874, when Mr. Hay married Miss Clara Stone, daughter of the wealthy Amasa Stone of Cleveland, a bachelor dinner was given him. At this dinner one of his friends remarked:

"And how long will your honeymoon last?"

"Why," replied Mr. Hay quickly, "I expect it to last the rest of my life."

The office of secretary of state of the United States is considered one of the highest civil stations in the world. Clay, Webster and Calhoun each served his country in this great capacity. Six of our secretaries of state attained to the presidency of the United States. And among the thirty-eight eminent citizens who have presided over this department there are found the names of John Marshall, Edward Livingston, Edward Everett, William L. Marcy, Jeremiah S. Black, William H. Seward, Hamilton Fish, William M. Evarts, James G. Blaine, Thomas F. Bayard, Richard Olney and John Sherman.

Secretary Hay was a very dignified man, but he used to tell with a smile of an experience he had in New York. He took a midnight train and in the morning stopped at the station restaurant in Jersey City to get a cup of coffee. While he was drinking his coffee and nibbling a roll a large, red faced man who was not at all impressed by dignity nudged the secretary of state with a vigorous elbow and, pointing to the sugar, said:

"Say, sport, ferry over the confectionery, will you?"

POLITICAL

Taft Denounces Wallace.

In a statement made public by Secretary of War Taft on his return to Washington the circumstances connected with the resignation of John F. Wallace as chief engineer of the Panama canal were recited in detail. According to this, Mr. Wallace accepted an offer of a sixty thousand dollar salary to become the head of a New York construction company before gaining permission to return from the isthmus. Two days after Mr. Wallace reached New York he held a conference with Mr. Taft and told him of his decision to accept the offer of a better salary. In reply Taft told Wallace that in so doing he had abandoned his solemn obligations to the government, saying: "For mere lucre you change your position over night without thought of the embarrassing position in which you place your government when the engineering forces on the isthmus are left without a real head and your department is not perfected in organization." Thereupon Mr. Wallace's resignation was requested.

John F. Wallace.

The rumor was prevalent that the temptation offered to Wallace was part of a preconcerted plan of certain railroad interests to embarrass the government and delay indefinitely the construction of the canal. He, however, issued a long statement denying he had resigned for pecuniary reasons.

To Try Hooker July 10.

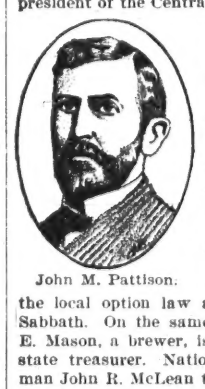

The New York senate voted June 28 to fix the day for beginning the trial of Supreme Court Justice Warren B. Hooker, the judiciary committee having decided that the legislature had jurisdiction. The senate agreed with the assembly on July 10 as the trial day.

American Ships For Canal.

The canal commission has purchased the steamers Mexico and Savannah at $650,000 each from the Ward line after failing to find suitable vessels in Europe for the transportation of canal supplies.

Ohio Democrats For Temperance.

The Ohio Democratic convention which met at Columbus June 28 nominated John M. Pattison of Cincinnati, president of the Central Union Life Insurance company, for governor and made temperance the leading issue of the coming state campaign. Pattison was known to be favored by the antisaloon league, and in accepting the nomination he said he was in favor of the local option law and a Christian Sabbath. On the same ticket Charles E. Mason, a brewer, is nominated for state treasurer. National Committeeman John R. McLean tendered his resignation, and it was rumored that his paper, the Cincinnati Enquirer, was about to flop to the Republican party.

EXECUTIVE

Bowen-Loomis Papers Circulated.

The correspondence in the Bowen-Loomis case, published in pamphlet form, has been mailed to consuls and diplomatic representatives of the United States with a view to impressing upon them the objectionable character of such actions as were charged against Minister Bowen.

President Favors Chinese.

In view of the imminent danger that an effective boycott against American goods in China might be put in force by the Chinese merchant guilds, President Roosevelt has taken decisive action looking to a more lenient administration of the Chinese exclusion law by the officers of the immigration service. He has directed the state department to issue a circular letter of instruction on the subject to our diplomatic and consular officers in China and has informed the secretary of commerce and labor, who is charged with the enforcement of the exclusion law, that any officer of the immigration service who shows discourtesy to any Chinese of the exempted class applying at our ports will forthwith lose his place.

Hawaian Governor Resigns.

George R. Carter, who resigned the governorship of Hawaii June 23, received permission from President Roosevelt to come to Washington and talk the situation over. Governor Carter is known to have been unpopular in Hawaii, but his resignation was a surprise.

Few Yellow Fever Victims.

The isthmus canal commission issued a statement June 28 at Washington concerning the outbreak of yellow fever on the isthmus. Only six deaths have occurred among 9,702 canal employees during the past two months. One more death and three new cases were reported by cable on the same day.

FOREIGN

Riots and Mutiny In Russia.

The revolutionary spirit, long smoldering and sputtering in the war troubled realm of Czar Nicholas, has leaped into fierce flames of riot and mutiny. Just as the government had the labor uprising at Lodz and Warsaw, in Russian Poland, under some semblance of control by giving the Cossacks free rein to shoot down all persons assembled in public, the sailors of the battleship Kniaz Potemkine, stationed at the Black sea port of Odessa, and flagship of the Black sea fleet, broke into open mutiny June 28, killed their officers and joined forces with the strikers on shore. Immediately the strikers became so emboldened that they began to burn and loot the business sections of Odessa. Millions of dollars' worth of property along the water front was destroyed. In fierce clashes with the troops hundreds of persons were killed or wounded. It was said that many of the troops refused to fire on the strikers, thus rendering the authorities helpless until re-inforcements could be sent.

The reported occasion of the mutinous outbreak on the battleship was the shooting of a sailor named Omelchuk by the chief officer for complaining about the quality of the food served the men. The dead body of the sailor was sent on shore with a guard of honor, and a note telling the circumstances was pinned to his uniform for the purpose of arousing the people. Thousands passed the open coffin of the dead sailor with heads bared.

Next day the mutiny was reported in the naval barracks at Libau, on the Baltic, and the crew of a transport joined the rebel ship at Odessa. Prior to the arrival of the remainder of the Black sea fleet, under Admiral Kruger, from Sevastopol, the mutineers had begun a bombardment of the city. By June 30 the czar had declared a state of war to exist at Odessa and neighboring localities in order to terminate the disorders. Martial law was also ordered at Lodz and Warsaw, where several hundred strikers had been killed. Agrarian riots extended over almost the entire section of Russian Poland and to the Caucasus. The presence of foreign vessels and residents at Odessa gave the crisis a serious international aspect.

When Admiral Kruger arrived with his fleet at Odessa, June 30, it was first reported that the rebel ship had surrendered, but later the news leaked through the censorship that another battleship, the Georgi Pobiedonostseff, had joined the mutiny. For fear of similar action by other crews Kruger refrained from firing and returned to Sevastopol, where the rest of the fleet were put out of commission.

Peace Envoys Named.

Russia and Japan gave President Roosevelt notice on July 2 of their choice of envoys to the Washington peace conference early in August. The Russians named are Ambassador Rosen, now at Washington, and Ambassador Muravieff, at Rome. The Japanese are the present ambassador at Washington, Takahira, and Baron Komura.

Germany's Reply Milder.

The reply of Germany to the French inquiry about the kaiser's intentions was received at Paris. The impression prevailed that the kaiser had taken a less belligerent attitude since it became known that England was to back France up. Nevertheless Germany insists upon the principle of a Moroccan conference.

Peking Opposes Boycott.

Upon representations from the American minister, Mr. Rockhill, the Chinese government has issued a proclamation directed against the boycott of American goods pending the negotiations of a new treaty. Peking is thought to have been influenced in this course by the order of President Roosevelt to soften the execution of the exclusion law. The extent of the anti-American feeling is said to astonish foreigners, even advertisements of American goods being refused by some of the papers. The agitation has spread to the Straits Settlements, where the Chinese control most of the Indian trade.

War Cry Raised In Sweden.

After a stormy debate in the Swedish riksdag June 28 a majority of branches chose an extraordinary committee to which would be referred the government's bill for a settlement with the seceding nation. Men of all parties were disposed to rally to support King Oscar. Many speeches were made in favor of coercing Norway.

On July 2 King Oscar showed his mailed fist by proclaiming Stockholm and three other coast cities of Sweden as war ports, excluding all foreign vessels therefrom, and by sending a squadron of gunboats to patrol Norway's coast. The armies of both countries were alert at the frontier.

Hottentot Chief Captured.

Berlin had official information June 27 of a decisive battle in German Southwest Africa, in which the forces under Major Von Kamptz had crushed the entire band of Hottentots in a battle along the Karib river on June 17, capturing the insurgent chief Morenza. The reported capture of Warmbad by insurgents was denied.

SOCIOLOGICAL

Would Ostracise Grafters.

James B. Dill, the New York corporation lawyer, known extensively for his part in the building of trusts, assailed trust grafters in his address to the graduates of Oberlin college. He said that an acute crisis existed owing to the fact that a large part of our prosperity "is bottomed on an overproduction of fraud and sham," so that a feeling of distrust is growing up throughout the country. Referring to the Equitable, he said that the dummy director who dummyizes himself for pay is in no position to criticise the clerk who falsifies his accounts or the employee who embezzles. Getting down to the reason for such conditions, Mr. Dill said that it was the fault of public opinion, and that public opinion is our opinion—"yours of me, mine of you, ours of all the rest." He thought we should learn to punish grafters, however respectable, not alone by imprisonment and fine, "but with all the might of the terrible scorn of society." He said we had to recognize that the seeds of socialism, revolution and anarchy are sown by the man of our own class and kind who pretends to be what he is not.

Sad Isolation of the Rich.

President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California in his address before the Dartmouth alumni spoke of the economic abundance of the last decade, which had produced a numerous class of Americans whose lives are absorbed in devising means to spend a fraction of their income. He said their money had made them its servants and that the sudden dislodgment of life conditions produced by this rapid excess of wealth commonly results in a pitiful maladjustment of machinery for work demanded. One of the saddest features of lives pursued by wealth consists in their isolation from humanity—that is, they are naturally driven into the society of the like conditioned and bound there so that "sound judgment and clear perspective in the motives and movements of human life are seldom found among these people of the caste who drag a golden ball and chain."

SPORTING EVENTS

Cornell Sweeps the Hudson.

In the annual regatta of the Intercollegiate Rowing association on the Hudson, at Poughkeepsie, June 28, the four mile race for varsity eights was won by the Cornell crew in 20 minutes 39 2-5 seconds, Syracuse being second, Georgetown third, Columbia fourth, Pennsylvania fifth and Wisconsin sixth. The two mile race for freshmen eights was also won by Cornell in 9 minutes 39 4-5 seconds, Syracuse being second, Columbia third and Pennsylvania fourth. Only the two mile race for varsity fours was won by Syracuse in 10 minutes 15 2-5 seconds, Cornell being second, Pennsylvania third, Columbia fourth and Wisconsin fifth. Thus the supremacy of Cornell oarsmen under the instruction of their famous coach, Courtney, was re-established, Syracuse having been the victor in last year's race. The struggle was not one of colleges, for the rowing style of Syracuse under the instruction of Ten Eyck was new and different from that of the Courtney stroke. The Cornell varsity was twelve lengths ahead of Syracuse at the finish. Also in the freshmen race Cornell led from the start. The interesting feature of the race was that Syracuse in order to defeat the Cornell crew had to smash the record. The races were witnessed by 25,000 people.

Charles E. Courtney.

Yale Outrows Harvard.

At New London, Conn., June 29, the annual four mile race for varsity eight oared shells was won by Yale in 22 minutes 33 3-5 seconds, Harvard being less than three seconds behind. However, both the varsity four oared race and the freshmen eight oared race were won by Harvard crews.

A New Automobile Mark.

At the Empire City track on June 25 Guy Vaughan in a forty horsepower Decauville machine finished a run of 1,000 miles in twenty-four hours. During the run he made fourteen stops, a total loss of 1 hour 40 minutes 4 seconds.

Roosevelt on College Sports.

In his address at the Harvard commencement President Roosevelt, while acknowledging his esteem for the professional athlete as such, declared that the undergraduate who becomes a semiprofessional is an unmitigated curse and that the spirit which puts so excessive a value upon his work as to produce this semiprofessional is itself unhealthy.

LAWRENCE NEWS.

ST. ANNE'S CHURCH PICNIC.

The annual picnic of St. Anne's church, Lawrence, under the auspices of the Children of Mary, was held at Shawsheen grove, July 4. Fr. Thiery and Fr. Vinas had complete charge of the picnic aided by an excellent corps of assistants. A large crowd was present and all enjoyed the fine list of sports which had been arranged.

The tug-of-war between the Franco-American team, Capt. J. C. Lambert, and the St. Joseph union team, with Joseph Cardaret as captain, was a draw. Both sides pulled and tugged away but after the expiration of the allotted time it was seen that both sides were so evenly matched that a draw was the only possible decision.

The baseball game between the St. Anne's Independent club and the Sacred Heart team was won by the latter by a score of 6 to 3.

After the sports had been concluded the drawings took place, which resulted as follows:

Fancy work, Miss Mary Lafrance; gold bracelet, Mrs. L. Mercier; gold chatelaine watch, Mrs. L. Mercier; gold rosary beads, Mrs. G. Gagne; gold cross, Mrs. N. Calver; hat, Miss Exilda Laplante; hat, Miss A. Augur; lemonade set, Mrs. L. Rondeau; photograph of Fr. Thiery, Miss D. Goulet. Other lucky numbers drawn were 2493, 689, 2129, 1085, 37,530, 7104, 669, 2157 1940, and the persons holding the duplicate checks can get their prizes by presenting them.

The ladies in charge of the tables were as follows, and under the direction of President Georgia Morin, assisted by Josephine Labonte and Mrs. Thomas Dore:

Ice cream, Mrs. L. Venne; tonics, Miss M. Potvin; lemonade, Miss E. Salois; pastry, Miss O. Jean; fruit, Miss Isola Courtemanche; sandwich, Miss Victoria Boudreau; cigars and pop corn, Adell Bergeron; candy, Miss M. Tardiff; flowers, Miss Laura Gagne; fancy work, Misses A. Auger and Alma Beland. The skating rink was under the direction of Joseph Duchesne.

ANCEDOTE OF DR. BANCROFT.

The Rev. R. A. MacFadden of Danvers, formerly of Andover, tells the following anecdote of the late Principal Bancroft of Phillips academy:

"I happened to be in Dr. Bancroft's office one Monday morning when one of the boys came in. The doctor was busy at his desk and hardly raised his eyes from the paper on which he was writing, when he greeted the newcomer.

" 'Good morning,' he said.

" 'Good morning, sir.'

" 'I understand that you were not in chapel yesterday morning, Blank.'

" 'No, sir, I attended the Free church, sir.'

"Dr. Bancroft still wrote on busily.

" 'Did you see me there, Blank?' he asked pleasantly.

" 'No sir. Why do you ask?'

"The doctor had not raised his eyes during the dialogue.

" 'Because I preached the sermon there yesterday morning.'

"That was all he said. He dismissed the confused young man courteously and that was the last of the incident, but there was a greater rebuke in his dignity than in a thousand of the usual methods of punishment."

FRIDAY, JULY 7, 1905.

A Great Day.

Congratulations! To those who planned; to those who participated; to those who enjoyed; congratulations to all who had any share in the Fourth of July celebration. It was an excellent program that had been arranged, and its carrying out more than fulfilled all expectations.

Now what is the good of it all? To suggest a partial answer to this query, is to reply as well to one of our good friends who suggested the other day that it was all a piece of nonsense anyway, and he "wondered why the Townsman didn't say so". He went farther and talked about "the rational Fourth" and other Springfield Republican notions upon the day, and altogether indicated his great disapproval of the whole Fourth of July idea.

The trouble with our good friend is that, like many others, he cannot see in a July 4th celebration anything beyond what his ears and eyes detect for him. His ears are jarred by the noise, and his eyes are offended by many of the excesses. The day means nothing beyond or above this. He has no children to be amused by some of the features provided, and he can see nothing in it at all but trouble and inconvenience. But why not look a little farther? The writer wanted a Fourth of July celebration for a much more important reason than any mere noise or entertainment it would provide, and the results of last Tuesday's efforts by an earnest, interested committee, and a hearty public co-operation, have very fully met the desire.

The public observance of the day, with nearly every person in the town a big or little contributor, has done more to bring the town together in sympathy, interest, and appreciation of each other, than any event for a dozen years has done. Leave out of consideration altogether the interest that was aroused in a particular object, and there is enough in the general getting together accomplished, to more than compensate for tired nerves and disgruntled feelings.

And what a lot was done for the particular object around which the day centred, the town's Common and Playstead! "I didn't know there was such a field there," said one gentleman who saw the Playstead for the first time. No more did hundreds who went there and enjoyed the sports and games, the bonfire and fireworks. There was an interest that appeared to be worth looking into. Not a half hundred, but several thousands are to be henceforth interested in the town's opportunities in the land around the Centre schools; and a Fourth of July celebration is responsible for the widening of this interest.

It was, indeed, a good day, and it isn't over by a long shot. We trust and believe that the "get-together" influence created by it will work for a long while in doing many things to aid the town's best growth.

Editorial Cinders.

The baseball team that represents the Andover Athletic association is turning out to be first class. Their victories over three of the strongest teams of this vicinity in the past two weeks put them well up among the leaders in amateur baseball. Now let them keep it up with continued reliance upon their own members for players, and the public is bound to give them increasing support. Baseball is a great game, and Andover has an abundance of material out of which a good team can easily be maintained.

"He was a good swimmer." How often those words are written into the account of some sad drowning accident! To be a good swimmer is well, but it it not by any means a sure protection against the dangers of drowning. Sudden cramps, or chills, or heart failure are none of them respectors of a man's ability to swim. However good a swimmer you may be, don't neglect the one great safeguard of always having a companion.

The vacation school opens Monday, and there are indications that quite a number of the young folks will be shut out from its attractions, because of lack of accommodations. This is unavoidable, although to be regretted. The vacation school is full of possibilities for good work, and under such excellent leadership as is provided this year, there is bound to be a profitable six weeks ahead of the sixty lucky boys and girls who will be admitted.

With the close of the college examinations there is an end to active school work in Andover for a good two months. All in all it has been a good year for the big schools, and they can well count it a success. May the two months' rest bring renewed vigor for an even more prosperous year in 1906.

DROWNED IN FOSTERS POND.

Thomas Cushman a Highly Respected Melrose Boy Looses his Life While Bathing.

A sad drowning accident occurred on Thursday morning when Thomas, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Cushman of Melrose, lost his life. Cushman has been camping at the pond for several days with his parents who own a camp. It had been his usual custom to go into the water every morning before breakfast for a bath. Yesterday morning he went into the water apparently in the best of health. He rowed from shore in a boat, undressed and left his clothes in the bottom of the boat. He swam around for some time about 100 yards from shore, in view of his mother who was watching him from the piazza of the camp.

Her attention was taken for a few minutes later with some work she was doing and on looking to the pond again her son was nowhere to be seen. She immediately notified neighbors who telephoned to Chief Frye who with Officer James Saunders went to the scene.

The boat in which young Cushman had rowed out was found floating in the pond about half a mile from the house by Mr. Chisholm, a reighbor.

The pond was searched with grappling irons all day by the officers and campers but the body was not found. The search was resumed this morning.

Thomas Cushman was one of the most popular young men in Melrose. He graduated with the class of 1905 from the Ballou and Hobigand school in Boston and was preparing to enter college in the fall.

He was twenty-one years of age and an expert golfer having won two valuable prizes in a tournament last Saturday.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. Cushman being a well known vocal instructor in Melrose, and one brother, Loring T. Cushman.

Presented With a Purse.

A very interesting and enjoyable entertainment was held on Saturday evening at the residence of David F. Bruce on Shawsheen Road, the occasion being in the shape of a surprise party. It was planned by the members of the Andover Cricket, Football and Baseball association, in honor of the departure of Mr. Bruce for a visit to Arbroath, Scotland. There were about forty members present.

Alex Anderson, in a few appropriate remarks, surprised the ex-captain by presenting him on behalf of the gathering, with a purse of money. Mr. Bruce replied in a feeling manner after which an enjoyable program was carried out. Songs were rendered by Robert Anderson, W. Stirling, C. Fettis, W. McKenzie, John Porter, W. Haddon, D. Bruce, A. Nass, W. Anderson, J. Welch.

Fair at Free Church

A fair was held in the vestary of the Free church last evening under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor society. The social committee had charge of the work and deserve great praise for the success which was attained by the sales, nearly $100 being realized.

The attendance was large and as usual the tables were well patronized.

The Helping Hand society had charge of the fancy and apron table and the members of the society waited on the remainder which consisted of: Cake, Misses Grace Leslie, Jean Gordon, Marion Saunders and Barbara Taylor. Candy, Bertha C. Coutts, Alice M. Bell, Flora Lindsay and Charles Riddock. Ice cream, strawberries and cake, Bertha Clark, Jean David, Alice Leslie. Waitresses, Fannie Angus, Lizzie Gordon, Susie Wilkie, Ethel Marshall.

Fancy and apron, Mrs. George D. Lawson, Mrs. Walter S. Rhodes, Mrs. William Faulkner, Mrs. David Leslie, Mrs. James Soutar. David May and George Carter assisted in the kitchen.

A play entitled, A Lady Cook, was given, which created much laughter as it was very funny. Miss Alice M. Bell as the cook was especially good and all deserve much credit for the way the play was carried out.

The cast of characters was as follows:

The cook, Miss Bell
Maid, Marion Saunders
Rose Barclay, Ruby Jackson, John Barclay, Charles Riddock, Sally Sinclair, Bertha Coutts, Tom Barker, John Kydd.

Other features of the program were readings by Miss Gladys Forbes of Lawrence and a piano duet by Misses Bertha C. Coutts and Jean Dundas.

The proceeds of the sale will go to the treasury for the new church.

The following committee had charge of the fair: Miss Alice S. Coutts, Miss Jean Gordon, Charles Riddock and William Wylie.

Run Over by Team.

Norman, the ten year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Harris of Frye Village had a narrow escape from serious injury if not death about 9 o'clock Monday morning and as it is, the boy suffers from bruises and a severe shaking up. The lad was walking in the street near Frye Village centre when he was knocked down by a team driven by a Lawrence tobacco dealer.

The lad was picked up and carried to his home. Dr. Garland happened to be near and an examination revealed the fact that no bones were broken. An ugly cut on the head required several stitches.

Those who witnessed the accident say that the driver was not to blame. After the mishap the owner of the outfit did all he could for the comfort of the boy, Dr. E. C. Conroy who was on a passing electric car also assisted in caring for the boy.

P. H. S. '03 Reunion.

The class of 1903, Punchard High school, held its first annual reunion in the school hall last Friday evening. About 30 members of the class and invited friends were present and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

The class assembled in the class room where a short, informal reception was held and shortly after eight o'clock they adjourned to the hall above. Supper was served by Caterer F. P. Higgins.

A short business meeting was held following the supper, President William C. Bliss being in the chair.

Following the business meeting short speeches were made by invited guests and the members of the class contributed to the program.

Myron E. Gutterson spoke principally on the athletics of the school and of their value. He also spoke of the duty of the alumni toward the school.

Letters of regret from the members of the faculty who were unable to be present were read by the secretary, Miss Sarah Pratt.

Eric Starbuck, a former teacher, told very humorous reminiscences of Punchard. His first experience at teaching was at Punchard, he said, and he thanked the class of '03 for their kindness in making the time spent here pleasant and profitable.

Miss Dorothy Logan read the class prophecy which was delivered by her at the graduation exercises of the class and it caused quite a little amusement.

Principal Curtis was called upon for a few remarks and he responded. He complimented the class on the honor of being graduates of Punchard and was glad to see so much class spirit. He spoke on the duty of the alumni toward the school and was pleased to see that the spirit was so strong.

The committee in charge consisted of Miss Sarah H. Pratt, Ralph Bailey and William A. Bliss.

THE WHITE MOUNTAINS.

Beautiful Scenery and Wonderful Works of Nature.

The White Mountains of New Hampshire are famous the country over as America's most beautiful summering section. The awe-inspiring and wonderful scenery; the magnificent grandeur of these "Crystal Hills;" the numerous handiworks of nature—interesting ravines; high mountain cliffs; wonderful, gorgeous, towering peaks; the marvelous profile in rock of the "Old Man" in Profile Notch and the figure of the White Horse of North Conway. There is something new to see every day in the mountains. The hotels range from the most palatial and sumptuous hostelries in the country to delightful boarding houses and cosy cottages and camps. Visit the mountains on your vacation! You will then realize the magnificence of New England scenery. A beautiful portfolio containing choice half-tone reproductions of the handsomest mountain scenes, entitled "Mountains of New England," will be mailed to any address by the General Passenger Department, Boston and Maine Railroad, Boston, upon receipt of six cents, and a descriptive book, profusely illustrated and containing a detailed description of the mountains, will be sent upon receipt of two cents in stamps; also a colored "Bird's Eye view of the Mountains as seen from the Summit of Mount Washington," will be sent upon receipt of six cents in stamps; or the whole for fourteen cents.

A HOT fire, but—A cool kitchen!
Is there no heat with a gas stove?
Of course there's heat—the very best and most effective kind.
It's heat that heats the food, and not the whole house.
It is not fickle heat. You can depend on it absolutely. You can have several degrees of heat (for several kinds of cooking) at the same time.
Each flame is as steady as clockwork.
You can time your cooking in advance if you have a gas stove.
And the instant your cooking is done you can put the fire entirely out.

Fourth of July Accidents.

Virgil Swanton had a narrow escape from losing the sight of one of his eyes by the premature explosion of a cannon cracker about noon, Tuesday.

He held the missile in his hand and applied the torch when with hardly any warning, the cracker exploded and shattered his eye quite badly. It was thought at first that the eye ball had been injured and that he would lose the sight of the member but it is now believed that the ball of the eye escaped without being injured.

A child of A. P. Richardson, while setting off firecrackers, was burned slightly about the face by the explosion of one of them. No serious results will follow, however.

SPEED FOR MOTOR VEHICLES

In the Town of Andover, Mass.

The Board of Selectmen of the Town of Andover have made the following regulations, regarding speed of motor vehicles:

ON MAIN STREET FROM GARDNER AVENUE TO THE NORTH READING LINE—20 MILES PER HOUR.

This regulation is made according to the provisions of Chapter 366, Acts of 1905 entitled

AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE SPEED AT WHICH AUTOMOBILES AND MOTOR CYCLES MAY BE OPERATED ON PUBLIC WAYS

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 1. The city council of a city or the board of aldermen of a city having no common council, and the selectmen of a town, may make special regulations as to the speed of automobiles and motor cycles and as to the use of such vehicles on particular roads or ways, including their complete exclusion therefrom. If they determine that on any particular way a speed greater than the speeds specified in section eight of chapter four hundred and seventy-three of the acts of nineteen hundred and three may be permitted with safety, they may make such special regulations as may appear to them to be necessary: provided, however, that no such special regulation increasing or lessening the speed at which automobiles or motor cycles may be run on the public highways, or excluding them therefrom, shall be effective unless such regulation shall have been published in one or more newspapers, if there be any, published in such city or town, otherwise in one or more newspapers published in the county in which the city or town is situated. If, within fifteen days after the publication of such notice not less than fifty residents of Massachusetts, at least ten of whom shall be taxpayers of the city or town, file a written protest with the Massachusetts highway commission, such special regulation shall not be valid until approved by said board after public notice and a hearing given by said board in the city or town. Such special regulations shall be posted conspicuously by or under the direction of the Massachusetts highway commission, on sign boards at such points as the board may deem necessary. The cost of such sign boards and the expenses in connection with their erection and maintenance shall be paid out of the appropriation for expenses in connection with the registration of automobiles and motor cycles and the licensing of operators thereof. No ordinance, by-law or regulation now in force in any city or town which regulates the speed at which automobiles or motor cycles shall be run upon its public ways shall hereafter have any force or effect. Nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to affect the rights of boards of park commissioners, as authorized by law.

Section 2. Section fourteen of chapter four hundred and seventy-three of the Acts of the year nineteen hundred and three is hereby repealed.

Approved May 4, 1905.

THE SPEED FOR ALL OTHER SECTIONS OF THE TOWN SHALL BE AS PROVIDED IN CHAPTER 473, ACTS OF 1903.

Section 8. No automobile or motor cycle shall be run on any public way or private way laid out under the authority of statute outside the limits of a city or the thickly settled or business part of a town or fire district at a speed exceeding fifteen miles an hour, or within a city or the thickly settled or business part of a town or fire district at a speed exceeding ten miles an hour. Upon approaching a crossing of intersecting ways, also in traversing a crossing or intersection, and in going around a corner or a curve in the highway every person operating an automobile or motor cycle shall run it at a rate of speed less than that hereinbefore specified and at no time greater than is reasonable and proper, having regard to traffic and the use of the way and the safety of the public, and in no event exceeding eight miles an hour.

BASEBALL

The Andover A. A. baseball team defeated their old rivals, Ballardvale, last Saturday afternoon on the Playstead. The home team clearly outplayed the visitors in all parts of the game. Numerous errors were made when runs were needed, and the locals took advantage of every opportunity.

Whitney proved an easy pitcher for Andover, 10 hits being made off his delivery. Moynihan pitched a star game, allowing only four hits and striking out six men.

Lawson played a fine game for Andover, and Soutar was the star for the Vale team.

Bound over to Superior Court.

A session of police court was held Monday afternoon, when Judge Stone tried and convicted John E. Hutcheson, jr., on the charge of larceny of $13, the property of his father, J. E. Hutcheson. The offence, it was alleged, was committed about two years ago, when that amount of money was taken from a box in the Hutcheson home. The prosecution claimed that a key which would open the box was found in the possession of young Hutcheson, and that he took the money. Young Hutcheson did not deny that the key belonged to him, but did deny taking the money. After adjudging him guilty, the court imposed a fine of $15. He appealed and furnished security in the sum of $200 for his appearance before the superior court.

Attorney J. P. S. Mahoney appeared for the defence, and Harry R. Dow for the prosecution.

GLORIOUS FOURTH IN ANDOVER

Fine Weather, a Large Crowd, and a Good Program Mark the Day in Andover, from Bonfire to Fireworks.

The Fourth of July celebration in the town this year will live in the minds of the townspeople as the best that has ever been held. From midnight of the third to nearly midnight of the fourth there was a continuous round of amusement. The weather was a trifle hot but otherwise a more ideal day for a celebration would have been hard to choose.

All the arrangements made by the committees were carried out to the letter and there was not a hitch in the entire program. There were many out of town visitors here to enjoy the day.

A marked feature of the day was the fact that there was not an alarm of fire and very few accidents. The fire department have usually been kept pretty busy on the eve of the fourth, but this year was an unusually quiet one for them.

The Bonfire

As the Old South clock was ringing the hour of twelve on July third the huge bonfire was lighted by Frank Goodwin, who had charge of this part of the celebration. The fire was the largest seen in Andover for a long time, being twenty feet in diameter at the base and about thirty feet high. It was built by Mr. Goodwin and he deserves much credit for the success of the fire. A large crowd witnessed the blaze.

The Horribles

At five o'clock the horribles were on Park street awaiting the word of Marshal George A. Brown to start. A few minutes later the procession started with Michael J. Crowley and his force of police at the head of the procession. The line of march was as follows: Park to Main, Main to Elm, Elm to Maple avenue, Maple avenue to Walnut avenue, Walnut avenue to High street, High street to North Main, North Main to Stevens, Stevens to Shawsheen road, Shawsheen road to Essex, Essex to Main, Main to Locke, Locke to School, School to Main. The countermarch was made down Main street and the parade was reviewed in front of the Town hall by the judges who were: James Saunders, Charles Bowman, William Doherty, George F. Holt and H. F. Chase.

After much deliberation the judges awarded the prizes as follows: for the best local hit, the Andover Athletic Association, Garfield Abbott, Stewart Clement, Charles Hill, Bradford Clement, Fred Collins and Thomas Connors; second prize, the Heating Plant, John Schofield, William Poland and Timothy Hickey.

In the horrible class, first prize was awarded to the automobile, Leonard Saunders, John A. Collins and Arthur Jackson. The second prize was awarded to the band, Joseph Lloyd, leader.

First prize in the antiques was won by the float representing the Purchase of Andover, John Holt, Arthur Holt and Walter Holt. Second prize was awarded to the hand tub fire department, David Lawson, chief.

When the parade arrived in the square the arrest of several well known and prominent citizens by Chief Crowley and his sturdy force of "cops" occasioned much merriment to the spectators.

Many of the pieces deserve honorable mention especially the take off on the waiting room, the Chinese laundry, the stilt walker, James Gilmartin; the up-to-date fire department, Cornelius Wood; Nance and her husband, Edward McCabe and William Lynch; Going to the races, Elmer Philbrick and William M. Coutts; 100 years ago, William B. Cheever and Charles B. Jenkins; the Horrible coach, William Grosvenor, Philip Cheever and Cutter Foster; Uncle Sam, Charles Riddock; George Washington, William Wylie; Napoleon, Everett Hilton; Drum Major, Mark Keane.

The parade was one of the best ever held in Andover, it being evident that a great amount of work had been done in preparation for the feature.

The Sports

At nine o'clock the sports started on the playstead and there was a large crowd to witness the events. They were run through most successfully and much pleasure was derived by the lovers of sports in several of the races which were very exciting.

The first race, the quarter mile, was run around the common on Chestnut street, starting on Bartlet street, in front of the residence of Burton S. Flagg, and ending on Chestnut street in front of the residence of Miss Mary T. Donovan. There were seven entries in this race and the handicaps varied from five to thirty-five yards. The race was won by Walter Thompson, scratch, with Harry Davies, second. The latter had a handicap of five yards. John Killacky finished a close third.

The next race was the 100 yard dash for boys under 16 years. A good start was made but David Warden shot ahead finishing an easy first. Clarence Messer finished second.

The sack race was one of the most amusing of the events. The distance was 100 yards, 50 and return. This was one of the closest only a few inches separating the first two men. William Black won first prize and William Valentine, second.

The 100 yard dash was one of the prettiest races of the day, especially with the second and third men. The race was won handily by Walter Thompson in 10.4 sec. but there was a fight for second place between Harry Davies and John Lynch. The runners came down the stretch together and at the finish Davies had a lead of but a few inches.

The potato race was won by William Valentine after an exciting race. Cutter Foster won second prize. This was an interesting race for the spectators to watch as the excitement was intense from start to finish.

Only two entries were made in the three legged race and first prize was won by James and Herbert Callum, Thompson and Davies finishing second.

While the races were going on a quoiting match was being played on another part of the grounds. Some clever throwing was done by some of the contestants and good games was the result. First prize was won by Stephen Robb and second by Alexander Lamont.

Irving Murch won the broad jump with 16 feet 11 inches, Herbert Callum getting second with 16 feet 6 inches.

An exciting game of Association football was played between teams captained by William Black and E. Anderson. The former's team won after twenty minutes of play by a score of 2 to 0. The teams were composed of the following: W. Black, D. O'Connell, J. Matthew, J. Welch, J. Haddon, A. Matthew, R. Moore, A. Ross, A. Black, E. Anderson, R. Anderson, A. Anderson, H. Clark, D. Rennie, D. Falconer, A. Haddon, C. Fettes, W. McKenzie. Referee, J. Cairnie. Linesmen, C. Hudson and J. Falconer.

Baseball

The baseball game for the championship of Andover started a little after ten o'clock between the Independents and Elks. The former team won easily by a score of 12 to 1. The Elks were unable to do anything with Matthew's pitching, allowing only 5 hits and the support of his team was perfect. Sutcliffe was touched up for 13 hits and these aided by the wretched fielding of his team, gave the Independents the game.

In several innings the Elks went to pieces, allowing the Independents to score at will. For the victors, Matthew, Hodnett and O'Connell played good ball while Allicon was the star for the Elks.

EDUCATIONAL

Alumnus Roosevelt at Harvard

President Roosevelt, in attending the twenty-fifth reunion of his class—the class of '80—and the Harvard commencement exercises last week, insisted on being treated merely as one of the old graduates; consequently very few formal functions of welcome were held in honor of the president of the United States. Mr. Roosevelt made a plea for a higher ideal in the acquirement of wealth rather than to divert part of tainted money to philanthropic channels. He warned men of wealth that their violation of the spirit of law was breeding violence in the country. After visiting the Germanic museum he cabled his thanks to Emperor William, the donor. Secretary of War Taft received the degree of doctor of laws. The president went from Cambridge to his summer home at Oyster Bay.

President Roosevelt in 1880.

Bishop Lawrence, as chairman of the Harvard Alumni association, announced that more than $2,500,000 had been given toward the endowment for the Harvard college teaching staff.

Rockefeller Boosts Yale.

At the commencement President Hadley was cheered when he announced that John D. Rockefeller had given $1,000,000 and that Yale graduates had given another $1,000,000 to the permanent fund of the university. There is no string to the Rockefeller gift.

In his address Dr. Hadley said there were two kinds of degeneracy, "one which comes from too little reliance upon the law, another which comes from too much." The former is the one commonly referred to as a degenerate; but Dr. Hadley gives warning against the other kind, who has kept the laws until they become the only authority which control and the only standard which is recognized; consequently such a man is powerless to feel the stimulus of anything better. The important thought brought out by Dr. Hadley is that there is a point beyond which drill ceases to be a help and becomes a hindrance.

Rockefeller's $10,000,000 Gift.

When the general education board met at New York on June 30 Chairman Ogden announced the offer of $10,000,000 from John D. Rockefeller, to be held in perpetuity, the income being distributed to the smaller colleges of the country. The offer was accepted.

Johns Hopkins Calls a Woman.

Miss Florence R. Sabin has been appointed to the chair of associate professor of anatomy in Johns Hopkins college. She is a graduate of Smith college and of the Johns Hopkins medical school. Her original research has challenged international attention, and this appointment is expected to go far toward breaking down the barrier of sex prejudice against women in the field of medical research.

Public Schools a Failure.

The Association of Women Principals of Public Schools of New York City has issued a circular letter declaring that our public schools are "huge barracks, mere parodies on the spirit of the true school, where the individual child is a mere number, where no one has time for human sympathy and kindly personal influence and where the preparation of statistics and reports, and not the upbuilding of character, has become the chief duty of the principal."

COMMERCIAL

New Blood In Equitable.

Nine new directors of the Equitable Life Assurance society, to represent the interest of the policy holders, were chosen at the monthly meeting of the board, June 28, on recommendation of the trustees of the Ryan controlling interest, Cleveland, O'Brien and Westinghouse. At the same time the resignations of twenty-one of the old directors were accepted. The new directors are all policy holders.

In a long letter to the board James H. Hyde protests against the report of Superintendent Hendricks in so far as it reflects upon the memory of his father. He denies that the safe deposit companies were devised by his father for personal gain. He claims that all three of the safe deposit leases were in existence before the elder Hyde subscribed for and took stock in them at great personal risk. Prior to this former President Alexander surrendered $65,000, said to have been the proceeds of syndicate operations.

Mr. Hyde later resigned as chairman of the executive committee, Morton succeeding him.

English Newspapers In Europe.

Frank A. Munsey, who recently returned from Europe, is authority for the statement that Harmsworth, the English newspaper man, is about to begin the publication of a chain of papers in Berlin, St. Petersburg, Naples and Brussels, with one press service and all printed in English.

Eighteen Hour Train Restored.

The Twentieth Century limited eighteen hour express service between New York and Chicago on the New York Central system was restored June 26, after having been discontinued a few days on account of the Mentor wreck. Western traffic officials objected to the abandonment of the new train, and President Newman issued a statement saying that investigation had shown that the accident was not due to the speed of the train.

Big Failure In Chicago.

The failure of Knight, Donnelly & Co., the Chicago firm which went into the hands of a receiver, discloses liabilities exceeding $3,000,000, while the assets may equal $2,500,000.

Curb Brokers Roped In.

The stockbrokers who for many years have been in the habit of conducting their operations in Broad street outside of the New York Stock Exchange, what is known as the curb market, have been herded within a roped area by order of Police Commissioner McAdoo with a view to facilitating the traffic on the street. This gives the curb brokers a fixed status where they can be free from interference and annoyance. The brokers are seeking permission to erect an awning during the hot weather.

LABOR

Iron Workers Strike.

A general strike order against the Pennsylvania Steel company of Harrisburg, Pa., was issued by the International Association of Structural Iron Workers June 27. All men at work on steel construction for which this company had supplied the material were called out. The order was due to the fact that nonunion men had been employed in the manufacture of viaduct structural material. An offer to arbitrate the difficulties had previously been submitted by President Buchanan of the association. The strike affects the Blackwell's island bridge, New York; the Pennsylvania bridge at Havre de Grace, Md.; the Memorial bridge at Washington, the Boston subway and several large Maine contracts.

Strike at Erie Basin.

On account of the refusal of the Erie Basin Dry Dock company of Brooklyn to accede to the demands of their employees for increased wages 900 riveters and boilermakers struck last week. The officers of the company had made arrangements for the importation of 100 skilled mechanics from Philadelphia, but these men refused to work after talking with the strikers. About 2,000 men are employed by the company. President Dickey said the demands were refused, first, because they were paying more than any other concern, and, second, because they could not make an agreement with an irresponsible body of men.

Chinese May Dig the Canal.

According to a report received by a Pittsburg labor union leader from a member of the engineer corps of the Panama canal works, recommendation has been sent to Washington favoring the importation of Chinese labor. The reason given is that the Chinese will do the work that residents of the United States cannot and will not do.

$25,700 a Year Labor Graft.

The Chicago grand jury has received evidence that one concern, the Illinois Brick company, paid $25,700 in 1904 for what was known as the labor fund. Chairman Weber of the auditing committee testified that the money had been paid to certain union officials.

LEGAL-CRIMINAL

Union Label Unconstitutional.

The New Jersey court of error and appeals has decided, in the case of the Cigarmakers' International Union of America against William H. Goldberg of Newark, that the union label law is unconstitutional. The Cigarmakers' union sued Goldberg for using counterfeit union labels on cigar boxes. Judgment was granted by the lower courts, but now the court of error and appeals invalidates the label law because it purports to empower the party injured by a violation of the statute to fix the amount of the penalty which was to be exacted, in addition to full compensation for injury suffered. Counsel for the union says that the case will be appealed to the supreme court.

New Standard Oil Charge.

President J. M. Guffey of the Gulf Refining Oil company, Texas, who is widely known as the wealthy leader of the Pennsylvania Democracy, filed with the interstate commerce commission, June 28, a complaint against the Illinois Central, Louisville and Nashville and several other southern railroad companies, charging them with having entered into a combination with the Standard Oil company by which the latter gets a monopoly of the oil industry by discriminating rates. He alleges that rates on oil now are almost double those of products shipped south and that this prevents operators in Texas and Louisiana from doing business with northern points. It is claimed that southwestern fields now produce 30,000,000 barrels of oil a year, or over half of the country's entire output.

Beef Barons Indicted.

Eighteen of the principal proprietors and officers of the five big Chicago packing houses, including the Swifts, Cudahys and Morrises, were indicted by the federal grand jury at Chicago on July 1.

Georgia Mob Lynches Eight.

Early on the morning of June 29, at Watkinsville, Ga., a mob of 100 armed and masked men broke into the jail and took out nine prisoners, shooting eight of them to death within 200 yards of the jail. Seven of the victims were negroes and one a white man. The ninth escaped death by dropping as if killed at the first volley, the mob being deceived. The cause of the lynching was alleged to have been on account of an attempt of one of the negroes to assault a white woman at her home near the town one day last week. The mob spirit was further heightened by the recent murder of an aged couple in that vicinity.

Taft Criticises Criminal Law.

In an address before the graduating class of the Yale law school Secretary of War Taft amplified and confirmed his views on the administration of criminal law as stated at the Miami commencement two or three weeks ago. He charged the existing abuses to the rigid adherence to technicalities. In general he condemned the leniency of the judiciary toward offenders and said that too much leniency and delay of justice lead to mob violence. Incidentally he expressed the opinion that trial by jury has proved a failure in Porto Rico.

RELIGIOUS

Mrs. Eddy Against Peace Prayer.

The Rev. Mary Baker G. Eddy, founder of the Christian Science church, has issued from her home at Concord, N. H., the following request:

"That the members of my church cease special prayer for the peace of nations and cease in full faith that God does not hear our prayers only because of oft speaking, but that he will bless all the inhabitants of the earth, and 'none can stay his hand, none say unto him What doest thou?' Out of his allness he must bless all with his own truth and love."

Higher Criticism Manifesto.

Over 100 clergymen of the Church of England have circulated a statement advocating the right of the new school of higher criticism to claim the attention of the English church. They want churchmen to receive authoritative encouragement to face critical problems of the New Testament with entire candor. They express confidence that the church of the future will stand "upon the spiritual foundation to which Christian experience and the creed of the church bear testimony."

SCIENTIFIC

Professor Hilprecht Vindicated.

The board of trustees of the University of Pennsylvania has adopted unanimously the report of the committee appointed to investigate the charges affecting the integrity of Dr. Herman V. Hilprecht, the Clarke professor of Assyriology and professor of Semitic philology and archaeology. The three main accusations were literary dishonesty, improper retention of university property and that the so called Nippur tablet library had no just claim to be called a temple library. Dr. Hilprecht in his defense admitted that he did intend to indicate his belief that the objects described in his work "Exploration In Bible Lands" at one time formed a part of a library existing at Nippur, but that he did not attempt to state at what time the objects used for instruction were excavated, found or purchased and that if any one received such an impression he never gave or intended to give it.

Dr. H. V. Hilprecht.

Eclipse Expedition Starts.

The astronomical expedition under the auspices of the American government to observe the total eclipse of the sun Aug. 30 sailed June 27 on the cruiser Dixie from Philadelphia for Algeria. The expedition is under the command of Admiral Chester. The points of observation will be within a mile of the axis of the sun's path, where the thermometer registers from 120 to 130 degrees. From Gibraltar the expedition will be divided into three parties and conveyed on American warships to the different points of observation for fear that the sun may be overshadowed at one point by a cloud.

MISCELLANEOUS

Accidents.

A tornado in the vicinity of Phillipsburg, Kan., June 28, accompanied by enormous hailstones, caused the death of eighteen persons and much destruction of property.

A wind and rain storm caused the collapse of an apartment house in course of construction at New York, burying three workmen, two of whom were rescued alive.

An explosion in the Emporium Powder company at Emporium, Pa., June 28, caused the death of nine workmen and the injury of twenty others.

The shopping district of Nashville, Tenn., was swept by fire June 25, with a loss of $650,000.

From Mexico City came word July 3 of a terrific flood disaster caused by a cloudburst at Guanajuato. The town of Marofilo, below, was destroyed, and 1,000 lives were said to have been lost.

Deaths.

John Hay, secretary of state under both McKinley and Roosevelt, famous as diplomat and litterateur, died at his country home at Lake Sunopee, N. H., July 1, just as he was thought to be recovering from a recent illness; aged sixty-seven. The body was taken to Cleveland, O., where the funeral and burial occurred July 5. The president issued a proclamation to half mast all flags over public buildings and consular residences abroad.

Four Facts For Sick Women To Consider

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has an Unequalled Record of Cures—Mrs. Pinkham's Advice Is Confidential, Free, and always Helpful

FIRST.—That almost every operation in our hospitals performed upon women becomes necessary through neglect of such symptoms as backache, irregular and painful menstruation, leucorrhœa, displacements of the uterus, pain in the side, burning sensation in the stomach, bearing-down pains, nervousness, dizziness and sleeplessness.

SECOND.—The medicine that holds the record for the largest number of absolute cures of female ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It regulates, strengthens and cures diseases of the female organism as nothing else can.

For thirty years it has been helping women to be strong, curing backache, nervousness, kidney troubles, all uterine and ovarian inflammation, weakness and displacements, regulating menstruation perfectly and overcoming its pains. It has also proved itself invaluable in preparing for childbirth and the change of life.

THIRD.—The great volume of unsolicited and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time published by permission, give absolute evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

FOURTH.—Every ailing woman in the United States is asked to accept the following invitation. It is free, will bring you health and may save your life.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women.—Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. From symptoms given, your trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised. Out of the vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Surely, any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

METHUEN.

SUCCESSFUL BAPTIST PICNIC.

The Sunday school of the Baptist church held a successful picnic at Canoble Lake Park Saturday afternoon. Two specials well loaded with the children left Railroad square at 9.30 o'clock, and another special went to the park at 1.30, also well loaded. The day was delightfully spent by all with various diversions which the park offers. During the afternoon a list of sports was run off and prizes were distributed to the winners. The following carried off the honors:

50 yard dash for girls of the primary glass, Maud Yancey.

50 yard dash for boys, 7 and under, Frank Press.

50 yards dash for boys, 9 and under, Fred Yancey.

75 yard dash, boys, Elmer Davis.

Potato race, girls, Ruth Russell.

Potato race, boys under 11, Everett Bond.

Potato race, boys over 11, Elmer Davis.

Men's potatoe race, Henry Klemke

Girls race, Mildred Jenkins.

Lemonade was served to the children. The picnicers returned on special cars at 6 o'clock and 7.30 o'clock. Superintendent Fisher was assisted in arranging for the picnic by the following committees: Sports, S. J. Smith and Frank Maguire; transportation, Henry Klemke and George Slader; lemonade, George B. Bradbury and Leroy D. Howard.

PRETTY WEDDING.

The residence of Hon. and Mrs. M. H. Taylor, 16 Stevens street was the scene of a very pretty home wedding Wednesday, when their daughter, Effie Gertrude, became the wife of Edgar Gilbert of Lawrence, formerly of Methuen. The ceremony took place at 7 o'clock in the parlor which was tastefully decorated for the occasion. The Rev. Charles H. Oliphant of the Congregational church officiated, using the double ring service. Mrs. Edward Phillips rendered the wedding march, as the couple entered the room.

The bride wore a creation of white silk with lace trimmings. She wore a veil adorned with lilies of the valley and carried a bonquet of the same flower. She was attended by Miss Alice B. Poor of Boston, a cousin, as maid of honor. Miss Poor was gowned in white, and carried carnations. Raymond R. Root of Georgetown, a classmate of Mr. Gilbert's and a brother member of the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity of Dartmouth college attended him as best man.

The ceremony was witnessed by about 80 relatives and friends, including guests from Lawrence, Stoneham, Boston, Litchfield, Me., and other places.

After the ceremony an informal reception was held, and a wedding repast was served by Caterer Page of Lowell.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert left on a wedding trip, and upon their return will reside at 16 Stevens street. They will be at home to friends after Sept. 12. They were the recipients of many costly presents.

LOCAL MILITIA OFF FOR CAMP.

At 5 o'clock Wednesday morning the local militia companies assembled at the local armory and took the train 40 minutes later for Boston on their way to Westfield for a week's encampment.

HIGH SCHOOL CADETS OUTING.

The Methuen High school cadets have returned from Island pond where they have been in camp for the past week. One of the number sends the Telegram the following interesting account of the outing:

"On Monday morning, June 26, 15 of the Methuen High school cadets left Methuen for Island pond, Derry, N. H., to spend the following week in camp.

"A few of the cadets had preceeded us leaving on Saturday to prepare the camp for us.

"Leaving Methuen at 8.30 we went to Salem Centre on the electrics and from there some of us walked the remtining distance, about eight miles, while a few rode with the mail carrier between Salem and North Salem.

"We arrived at camp about noon and were prepared to eat our dinner which on that day consisted of boiled eggs and bread.

"The weather was not favorable for boating and so the boys remained in camp.

"Col. Page returned to Methuen with the team during the afternoon and there was nothing left to do but to "treat" the Freshmen.

"After waiting in vain till late in the night for them to fall asleep we finally took them to the operation table and in a short time the Gold Dust Twins did our work.

"The weather, after Tuesday, was perfect for camping. Swimming, boating, and fishing were enjoyed.

"There appeared to be some attractions over in the Hampstead direction which showed why the boys went to Hampstead postoffice for mail twice a day when they expected no mail at that postoffice.

"While in camp we were well-fed, having to eat canned corned beef, salmon and ham, coffee and milk, crackers and home made baked beans.

"On Friday we were invited guests at a picnic and dance at Chase's grove and during the evening the most of the boys enjoyed a lawn party in Hampstead.

"We spent many evenings on the water singing and giving our school yells while some preferred to remain by the camp fire.

"On Saturday morning at about 9 o'clock we took down our tents and left for Methuen.

"Some of the boys were fortunate enough to leave at the same time at which a Lawrence automobilist left and were invited to ride home.

"The rest of us reached home during the afternoon after having passed a most enjoyable week at camp.

SEC. P. M. CHURCH SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC.

The fourth annual picnic of the Second Primitive Methodist Sunday school was held Tuesday in Newsholme's field off Lowell street. The affair was a success and a delightful day was spent by all who attended. The members of the school met at the church at 9 o'clocfl and marched to the field to the number of 125, escorted by a volunteer band.

There was a baseball game between the Second P. M. church and the St. John's church of Lawrence, the latter team winning by the score of 9 to 6. The teams were made up as follows:

Sec. P. M.—Porter lf, E. Craven 2b, Newsholme 1b, Emsley 3b, Smith c, Trebble p, Balser cf, Fitzgerald ss and H. Craven rf.

St. John's—W. Hillis ss, Fletcher c, J. Wolger 1b, Shiers 2b, Marston 3b, G. Wolger c, F. Hillis cf, and Eastman rf.

A list of sports was run off under the direction of Mr. Hill and suitable prizes were given the winners. The result of the races follows:

Primary department boys, 100 yards, Lincoln Frye, first; Raymond Lee, second.

Primar department girls, Evelyn Wilkinson first, Flossie Kemp second.

Potato race, class 9, William Shea first, Henry Stocks second.

100 yards dash, class 5, Helen Frye first, Nettie Fitzgerald second.

The refreshments which were served during the day were in charge of the members of the Ladies' Aid society.

MET WITH ACCIDENT.

Alfred Bergeron, about 23 years old was badly injured Saturday afternoon on Pelham street.

Bergeron was riding toward Lawrence when the front forks of his bicycle broke, throwing him with much force on the ground.

He was picked up by passersby and removed in a carriage to the Emergency hospital in Lawrence. He was unconscious, suffering from the shock of the accident.

An examination proved that he had sustained a compound fracture of the nose, two bad cuts on the lip, a cut on his chin and lacerations of the face. The physicians stated that he would recover. Dr. Sheedy and his assistants at the hospital dressed the injuries of the young man.

CANOBIE LAKE PARK UNDER THE LAW'S BAN.

Sunday amusements were closed on Sunday at Canobie lark park by Attorney General Eastman of New Hampshire who ordered County Solicitor Kelley of Rockingham county to stop the amusement enterprises at Canobie Lake park Sunday, and Sheriff Macrum Collis of Portsmouth was charged with the serving of the warrants.

Manager Woodman of the New Hampshire Traction company was on the train on which was the sheriff and when the sheriff arrived Mr. Woodman was present to assume all responsibility in the matter. He was served with a notice to appear at Exeter Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock for a hearing.

Manager Bowser of the roller coaster and Carl Braum of the merry-go-round were also served with warrants and they will also appear with Mr. Woodman. The two attractions were immediately closed for the day. The penny arcade and minor amusements were not interfered with.

LAWRENCE

CITY OF LAWRENCE WON THE BIG PRIZE.

The playout in connection with the Firemen's muster on Monday had a most satisfactory ending as far as the local Vets are concerned and the result Vets are concerned the fact that the Lawrence tub has few if any ..s superior in New England.

The third best score was made by the second tub to play, the Enterprise No. 2 of Brockton. This was not bettered until the Protector No. 3 of Brockton, which drew the 19th place played. The distance was good and it looked as if the two Brockton tubs were to take the first and second prizes.

The Lawrence tub was the last to play. There had been some wind during the first of the afternoon but it died down near the close of the playout. The Lawrence boys had been saving themselves all through the day and when the tub was set in place to play Capt. Remick, foreman of the tub, followed by Mayor C. F. Lynch, mounted to positions between the brakes. Urged by the mayor on one hand and Capt. Remick on the other they could but do their best. The best record was made by the second stream. When the result was made known a great cheer went up and there was a general jollification. A triumphal march was made through the streets and according to the old custom brooms were carried to denote the victory.

The muster was highly successful in every particular and the men who gave both time and money to make it successful should feel fully recompensed.

The result of the playout follows:

MATRIMONIAL.

LAWLOR—O'CONNOR.

Miss Grace O'Connor, daughter of Margaret and the late Patrick O'Connor of 40 Fairmont street, a teacher in the Cross street school, and Thomas Lawlor of Lowell were married at a nuptial mass at St. Mary's shrine at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. Jas. T. O'Reilly in the presence of the relatives and intimate friends of the contracting parties.

Miss O'Connor wore a handsome gown of light grey crepe de chene and carried roses. She was attended by Miss Katherine White who was attired in pink. Frank O'Connor, a student at Harvard college and a brother of the bride was best man.

The couple left immediately after ceremony for a honeymoon trip. They will reside in Lowell. Miss O'Connor is well known in this city and carries with her the best wishes of a large circle of friends. For the past few years she has been identified with the Cross street school where she was equally admired by pupils and teachers. Among the handsome and costly gifts of which Mr. and Mrs. Lawlor were the recipients, none spoke more plainly to her general popularity or is more gratifying to her, than a little silver gift, the remembrance of her pupils at the Cross street school.

BOY DROWNED IN THE MERRIMAC RIVER.

Frank Boskoski, 16 years old, lost his life in the Merrimack river, about 100 yards east of the ice houses of the Lawrence Ice company Monday afternoon.

The boy, with others, was in bathing. He was not an expert swimmer and when about 100 feet from shore he was evidently taken with a cramp and sank from sight. One of his companions endeavored to save him, and almost lost his own life in the effort.

The body was recovered by William Kennedy, a woolsorter employed at the E. Frank Lewis mill, who lives at 5 Nightingale court.

Medical Examiner George W. Dow viewed the body and ordered is turned over to Undertaker Maurice J. Mahoney.

The boy had not been in this country a great while. His father is dead and his mother is in the old country and he lived with his sister at the east end of Common street.

HAVERHILL BARBER KILLED BY A CAR.

Henry Heiner, a German barber of River street, Haverhill, was struck by the electric car which leaves this city for Haverhill at 8 o'clock and was killed immediately. The accident occurred about 8.40 o'clock between the Pentucket house and Bradley's bridge. The car was in charge of Conductor Morgan and Motorman Rogers, both of Haverhill.

Heiner had been attending a German picnic not far from where the accident occurred and evidently he had been waiting for the car. The motorman said that he saw Heiner and was about to slow up for him when the waiting man lurched out in front of the car, about 20 feet in front. Before he could bring the car to a stop the man was struck and drawn under. The body could not be extricated, so tightly was it wedged underneath, and it was necessary to send for a wrecking car to Haverhill and when it arrived the car was backed up and the remains removed from under the trucks.

Medical Examiner Dow was notified and ordered the body removed to Undertaker Colby's rooms in this city. It was some time before the identification was made. The body remained in this city until the examination was made by the medical examiner and was then sent to Haverhill.

The victim appears to be about 35 years old. The wounds that caused the death are about the head and besides several bad looking cuts the left eye was blackened. The left leg was broken below the knee.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR CONVENTION OPENED.

BALTIMORE, July 6—The formal opening of the 22d international Christian Endeavor convention Wednesday afternoon in Armory hall saw about 8000 delegates present and nearly all of the 16,000 seats occupied. The hall had been ornately decorated for the occasion and the scene was one of extraordinary picturesqueness and animation.

In the absence of Pres. Francis E. Clark, Rev. Howard B. Grose of New York presided and opened the proceedings with brief remarks.

Treas. Shaw of the united society read the following letter:

"Oyster Bay, July 4, 1905.

"Rev. Francis E. Clark, DD. President of United Society of Christian Endeavor, Baltimore:

"I am very sorry that it has been found impossible for me to accept your invitation to address the Christian Endeavor convention. But will you permit me to send through you a word of greeting to those assembled and to heartily wish them continued success in the work in which they are engaged?

"The work of your society during the quarter of a century of its existence has been far-reaching in its effect for good.

"To make better citizens, to lift up the standard of American manhood and womanhood, is to do the greatest service to the country. The stability of this government depends upon the individual character of its citizenship. No more important work can be done; important to the cause of Christianity as well as to our national life and greatness.

"Theodore Roosevelt."

The reading of this letter evoked hearty applause and the convention voted unanimously to send the following reply:

Baltimore, Md., July 5, 1905.

"President Theodore Roosevelt, President's Train, Lake Shore Railway, Cleveland, O.:

"Thousands of Christian Endeavorers from many lands honor with you the memory of Sec. Hay. We thank you for your inspiring message. We beg you to stop at Baltimore, on your way home and let us hear your voice in a plea for the noble citizenship you exemplify. Any hour, day or night, will do.

"William Shaw.

After the singing of the doxology by the great audience and a prayer by Dr. Floyd Thompson of Philadelphia, there were devotional exercises including a memorial service for the late Sec. of State John Hay, conducted by Dr. F. D. Power, of Washington, and the Christian Endeavor rally song was sung by the chorus as a welcome to the visitors.

Gov. Edward Warfield of Maryland delivered an address of welcome that was enthusiastically applauded. He said in part:

"Many conventions have assembled in this beautiful city of ours, political, fraternal and religious, but none as great as this; none of the same international character. It is a great pleasure to welcome such splendid soldiers of the cross.

"On behalf of every sect, every race and nationality of our people, I extend you a warm, a hearty welcome, to Maryland."

The governor was followed by Mayor E. Clay Timanus in a brief speech of welcome. Rev. Oliver Huckel of Baltimore, on behalf of ministers of the city and state, welcomed the delegates, saying:

"We welcome you in the name of all our churches of all denominations. We welcome you without thought of denomination at all, for we are all one in Jesus Christ. We welcome you for the lofty faith, the splendid courage and the whole-souled enthusiasm that you bring.

"You are in yourselves a glowing prophecy of the future; your hearts beat high with the coming victories of the church. We welcome you as witnesses to the perpetual youth and uncoming power of the Gospel of Christ."

W. O. Atwood of Baltimore, chairman of the convention committee, welcomed the delegates and visitors in these words:

"Take possession of our homes and hearts, our buildings and our monuments, our parks and our bays; brighten them with your joys, make them ring with your songs and echo with your praises.

"When we realize in the coming of this convention the higher exaltation of Christ, and when we hear in the tramp of your thousands the stately footsteps of Jesus; when we think of the spiritual power that must be generated here, and the consecration of earnest souls to a greater service for the Master, then it is that our very being seems to burst, as it would give vent to its shout of welcome.

Endeavorers from our land and from over the world, we welcome you, because of your throng; we welcome you because of your inspiring and eloquent speakers; but thrice welcome because your coming brings us in close touch with our God."

In the absence of Dr. Clark, Rev. Dr. Smith Baker, pastor of the "Mother society church," Williston Congregational church of Portland, Me., responded to the addresses of welcome in behalf of the delegates, first reading the following letter:

"Pine Point, Me., July 2.

"My dear Friends:—I am facing this afternoon one of the keenest sorrows and disappointments of my life in deciding that I cannot go to Baltimore for the convention, to which I have been looking forward, and for which I have been preparing for many months past. But my health does not allow it, and friends and physicians all unite in forbidding me to go. My prayer shall be for the convention hour by hour, and I ask a remembrance in your prayers, that I may soon be able again to take up my share of the work for Christian endeavor, which God has committed to us all.

"With sincere regard and affection for all, faithfully yours,

(Signed) "Francis E. Clark."

After the rendering of the anthem "The Heavens Are Telling," by Haydn by the convention chorus with splendid effect, conducted by R. A. Harris of Baltimore, the annual review of the Christian Endeavor field was read by Gen. Sec. Von Ogden Vogt. His statement contained the following:

Of the 66,772 societies of Christian Endeavor 49,339 are in the United States and Canada, and 17,433 in other lands. The four leading denominations in the United States are Presbyterian Congregational, Disciples of Christ, and Baptist. Of the total the Young Peoples societies number 46,859, the junior 17,838 and intermediate 1956. The net gain for the year was 2014.

An "increase campaign" was started 2 1-2 years ago, in which it was proposed that each state organize every year as many new societies as 10 per cent of the number enrolled at the beginning, but at that time there were few who believed a single state would keep the pace.

At Denver, a few months after, however, 18 states received fellowship banners for success in the scheme, and on the closing morning of the present convention 46 states or territories and three provinces will hold these increase banners. Since the campaign began 24 state unions have increased more than 20 per cent, 14 more than 30, seven more than 40, four more than 50, two more than 60, while Hawaii has gained 116 per cent. Ten others more are almost up to the 30 percent mark.

The strength and work of the movement is not measured alone in numbers however. Special reports on "local society betterments," along five specific lines were requested, and in honor of their success special recognition will be given to 5406 societies next Monday morning.

Under the head of "systematic beneficence," in the intermediate societies, the Walnut-av Congregational church of Roxbury, Rev. Dr. A. H. Plumb, ranks second with $723.67. The junior list is headed by the Highland-st. Christian church of Worcester, $344.13.

Most of the 20,000 people gathered in Armory hall tonight will carry away with them the conviction that in the "international festival of praise," under the direction of Rev. Carey Banner of London, has been brought forth the feature of a convention already declared by those who have attended all of its predecessors the greatest in the history of the society.

While almost entirely musical, it was in every sense a meeting for worship, and the bowing of the 20,000 heads in prayer, preceded by momentary silence, was wonderfully impressive. So, too, was the congregational singing, and Rev. Mr. Bonner, by whom the festival was arranged and partly composed, gave expression to intense admiration of the manner in which the chorus handled his creation.

The regular convention chorus of 2400 voices was reenforced by 400 of the junior chorus, making a grand total of 2800 voices.

The "International festival of praise," rendered for the first time tonight, illustrates the world-wide praise to God of the nations, and the music of the several parts is typical of times and nations, from "The Lord Bless Thee and Keep Thee," sung to what is said to be one of the oldest Hebrew airs known, to the most modern evangelical music.

Preceding the festival, by a unanimous vote, the following telegram was ordered sent:

"Rev. Francis E. Clark, Pine Point, via Old Orchard, Me.:

"Fifteen thousand Christian Endeavorers from many lands send sympathy and love and pray for your speedy and complete recovery. We pledge anew loyalty to Christ, fidelity to his church and fellowship with his people. The greatest meetings in the history of our conventions. (Signed)

"H. B. Gross, for the Convention."

Preceding the formal opening of the convention there was held a business meeting of the United Society of Christian Endeavor (corporation), at which officers and trustees for the ensuing year were elected, and annual reports of the officers were presented. All the old officers were reelected as follows: Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark, president; Von Ogden Vogt, general secretary; William Shaw, treasurer; George B. Graff, pub. agent.

George B. Graff, manager of the publishing department, reported the total receipts for the year as $66,515.40, and the expenditures $64,767.35, leaving a cash balance of $1784.05.

Included in the expenditures is $8586.26 contributed by the publishing department to the United States to carry on its work of organization and extension.

William Shaw, treasure of the United society, reported the balance from last report $94.85. Receipts from publishing department, United society of Christian Endeavor, $846.26. Life membership fees $9, a total of $8690.11. Expenditures $8591.24, leaving a balance of $93.37.

No announcement will be made here as to where the convention of 1907 will be held.

At an adjourned meeting of the board the matter was referred back to the executive committee with instructions to secure further information and report to a meeting of the full board, which will be held some time in the winter. Not until after that meeting will the name of the chosen city be known.

HAS FLAG OF HIS OWN.

"It seems queer that with all these flags flying around us, the one staff not displaying the American colors should be the fine steel spar on the White House," said a naval officer on a recent holiday, while standing on the east portico of the state war and navy department building, and directly below the big ensign floating from the time-ball staff.

"I know that the President is out of town and that is why the flag is not hoisted on this national holiday, but that does not seem to me sufficient reason for the failure to show the colors. The fact is that the statutes require the American flag to be displayed on all public buildings during office hours, and it is a question in my mind whether that law is not being evaded in the case of the White House.

Of course it is desirable to indicate the presence or absence of the chief executive from his home, but that could be accomplished in a much better way and by recourse to the simple expedient of allowing the President to use his own flag to indicate his movements. That is what an admiral does aboard a ship—one can always tell from shore whether he is aboard his flagship or not by the presence or absence of his own pennant from the mast end or signal arm.

"Now perhaps it is not generally known that the President by law and regulation is authorized to fly his own flag, and a very beautiful flag it is, a blue silk field bearing the splendid crest of the coat of arms of the United States in the centre and heavily bordered with gold. Of course these details could be modified to suit service conditions and make the flag stand rough weather, but the President certainly should show his flag. And the best way to do this would be to have the American flag hoisted over the executive office building daily regardless of the President's whereabouts, dicating its national character, while nothing should be flown from the steel staff on the White House but the President's blue flag when he is under its roof."—Washington Post.

McQueston, Lawrence, dress pattern, to Mrs. Chas. H. Farnham; barrel of flour to Mrs. G. H. Doman, Lawrence; quilt, to Sylvestman James C. Poor; bread mixer to Mrs. Asa Millbury.

The Veteran Firemen held a meeting Wednesday evening. It was their regular monthly meeting. The Lawrence muster was generally discussed. The stream thrown by Niagara I was not to be laughed at. The distance, 190 feet 5 inches was well up among the leaders. It looked at one while as if a prize would certainly come to the local men, but among the tubs at the playout were some of the best in New England. The appearance of the local vets created considerable faborable criticism.

On Wednesday evening the meetings of the Standard Bearers closed at the M. E. parsonage, to reopen in the autumn. The exercises directed by the president, Mrs. George E. Sanderson, were of a very interesting character and gave much pleasure to the large representation of the organization present. The program began with the singing of "Coronation" followed by a scripture reading in unison. Next the Rev. George E. Sanderson offered prayer, then the gathering sang, "Onward, Christian Soldiers." "The Bugle Call for Young People," proved of profitable worth. An enjoyable social, with a choice collation, terminated the affair. Miss Maude E. Wallwork was accompanist. The Rev. and Mrs. Sanderson were capital entertainers, doing everything possible for the happiness of the company. A pleasing incident of the meeting was the donation by the members of a nice sum to the parsonage fund.

RECEPTION TENDERED REV. AND MRS. JOHN L. KEEDY.

A delightful reception was tendered the Rev. and Mrs. John L. Keedy in the vestry of the Congregational church last evening. The affair was largely attended by the members of the parish. Among those present were the Rev. and Mrs. Samuel C. Beane, Jr., of the Old North church, the Rev. and Mrs. H. Usher Monro of St. Paul's Episcopal church, and the Rev. and Mrs. George E. Sanderson of the M. E church.

The Rev. and Mrs. Keedy were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hathorne, Mr. and Mrs. Moses Merrill, Dr. Charles P. Morrill and Miss May Morrill, Hon. and Mrs. Newton P. Frye, and D. W. Carney.

The large number present were competently cared for by head usher Clifton P. Carney and the following corps of assistants: James Frye, Philip Hamilton, George O. Eaton, Charles Dore, Wilmer Hathorne, and Dr. Edward W. A. Holt.

An excellent program of entertainment was carried out under the direction of George W. Hathorne. Among those who entertained were, Miss Muriel Rundlett, violin solo; Mrs. William D. Rundlett, vocal selection, with violin obligato by Mr. Rundlett and a flute solo by the latter; vocal duet, Miss Blanche Kelley and Miss Nettie M. Leonard; piano duet by Miss Nellie M. Stillings and Miss Elizabeth M. Saunders, and vocal selection by Mrs. George W. Hathorne. Remarks were made by the Revs. George E. Sanderson, Samuel C. Beane, Jr., and H. Usher Monro.

Refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake, strawberries and cream coffee and fancy crackers were served under the direction of the church social committee. The committee is: Hon. N. P. Frye, chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Butterworth, Mrs. William Page, Mrs. George L. Harris and Mrs Addie Carney Wallwork.

The church vestries were handsomely decorated with cut flowers, palms, ferns and other potted plants in profusion. The newly installed minister and his charming wife stood beneath an arch of color banked at either side with potted plants.

DEATH OF ESTEEMED WOMAN.

The sudden death on Monday afternoon of Mrs. Catherine M. Gillispie wife of Patrick Gillispie, comes as a great shock to the members of her family and to a wide circle of friends and neighbors. The deceased was seriously ill but a day and a half previous to her death, the result of which brings great gloom and sadness to the previously ever happy and pleasant home at 42 Saunders street. The members of the bereaved family have the sincerest sympathy of all.

The loss of a helpful wife and a loving and devoted mother is one that can never be repaired, though years may help the suffering ones to bear more readily the sorrow.

Mrs. Gillispie had resided in North Andover for nearly 21 years. She was born in Ireland 56 years ago, her maiden name being Clifford. She came to America with her parents when quite a young girl and lived in South Lawrence for a number of years. Her life has been devoted to the interests of her family who realize in the fullest measure what that care and devotion has been and the silent sympathy of those who have known the family best goes out to them in their great grief.

The deceased was a constant attendant at St. Michael's church and a member of the Holy Name society.

She leaves besides a husband, six sons and two daughters. These are William H., James E., Alexander J., Charles A., Joseph P., and Thomas L., Miss Mary H. and Miss Catherine F. Gillispie. There are also two brothers, Alexander Clifford of Arlington and William Clifford of Billerica, and two sisters, Mrs. Patrick McGuire and Mrs. John Dolan of South Lawrence.

The funeral services were held from St. Michael's Catholic church this morning at 9 o'clock. The mass was conducted by the Rev. John D. Gallagher, rector of the church. The edifice was filled by the relatives and many friends of the deceased who held her in the highest of respect. The soloists at the church were Miss Mary Dolan of South Lawrence, Miss Katherine E Donnelley and Maurice Mahoney.

The remains lay peacefully at rest in a casket of fine black broadcloth with trimmings of silver. The plate read:

CATHERINE M. GILLISPIE.
Died July 3, 1905.

The remains were tenderly placed at rest in the family lot in Holy Sepulchre cemetery. The pall bearers were the six nephews of the deceased, William Dolan, Charles McGuire, Robert Dolan, James Dolan, Robert Clifford and Joseph Dolan, all of Lawrence.

On June 30th at 5.20 o'clock, Mrs. George Dyson died at the residence of her son-in-law, Fred Broadbent, 25 Dudley street. Her health had been failing for several years and for about a month she had been confined to her room. Mrs. Dyson received the best of medical care, and everything was done for her that loving care could accomplish. The deceased who was 81 years, June 7, last, was born in Lockwood, Yorkshire, England, and had lived in this country over half a century, the greater portion of the time in Plattville, Wis. She came to North Andover about a year and nine months ago. For years Mrs. Dyson belonged to the Congregational church in Plattville, and became a member, by letter, of the local church of that denomination. She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Fred Broadbent, also a number of nieces and nephews. The family have the sincerest sympathy of the community in their bereavement. The funeral was held at her late home Sunday afternoon. Services at 2 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Wright of Hallowell, Me., a former pastor, assisted by the Rev. John L. Keedy officiated. The remains were taken to Plattville for burial in the family lot, in Greenwood cemetery. There will be services in Plattville prior to interment. Mr. and Mrs. Broadbent accompanied the body to its last resting place.

H. E. Wills, grand chief assistant engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers is making a few days' visit in this town with his brother Commander T. P. Wills of Needham post, G. A. R., on Pleasant street and with his sister, Mrs. A. A. Currier and Mrs. William Halliday. Mr. Wills was formerly a resident of Lawrence where he has numerous friends among the older residents. He was for 39 years an engineer on the Chicago and North Western R. R. The duties of his present office take him through Canada, the United States, Mexico and

Mr. and Mrs. Henry V. Bruce of Lawrence have been passing the Fourth at this resort.

Mr. and Mrs. William O'Brien and family of Lawrence are at the beach for a few days' sojourn.

The night before the Fourth passed very quietly here, notwithstanding the crowds of people here. There was quite a display of fireworks along the beach, including a large bonfire near the Vinton Villa. During the evening the police made but one arrest which is considered an especially good record for the evening.

Last Wednesday evening a meeting was held here regarding the advisability of erecting the plank walk as has before been mentioned in the Telegram. About twenty of the prominent beach residents were present and a discussion was held over the proposed work. But that there is need of such an improvement is easy to be seen, and it is thought that the plan will be carried out. The Beach Improvement society desires to erect a plank from near the Seaside house to Black Rocks on the south end and on the north along the entire sea line. Hon. E. P. Shaw has informed the committee that he will have the carpenter work done free of expense to the association, and this is considered a very generous offer. The cottage owners who have been approached all favor the plan, and have consented to bear a portion of the expense, so that it is quite probable that the plan will materialize. If carried out, the walk will be the one necessary adjunct which the beach demands to make it an ideal summer watering place.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous services.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

AFTERNOON BASEBALL GAME.

In the afternoon the baseball game between the Andover Athletic Association and the Young Men's Catholic Association of North Andover was one of the best ever seen on the home grounds. The home team was victorious, the score being 7 to 6. The result of the game was in doubt until the third man was out in the last inning and the game finished.

Hilton occupied the box for the home team during the first eight innings and he pitched great ball, allowing only six hits and striking out five men. He was relieved by Moynihan as the weather was too hot to finish the game and he allowed only one hit and struck out two men. The support that the team gave the pitchers was almost perfect and the snap and life that the men showed was no small part toward winning the game.

Hines, the twirler for the visitors, pitched a good game but he was touched up when hits meant runs. He had 12 strikeouts to his credit.

The only features of the game were the home runs by Maloney and Hines.

Kelley, the second baseman for the losers, came near being put out of business by being hit in the back of the head with a swift ball pitched by Moynihan. He recovered a short while later and the injury did not prove to be serious. The score:

In the evening the fireworks and band concert attracted many to the Playstead, the grounds being filled with people. A slight delay was experienced by the band in not obtaining light, the electric wires burning out before the band began to play. Lamps were secured at the band room and after this the band made up for lost time getting their full program in in a little over an hour.

The fireworks were without a doubt the best ever seen in Andover. The display contained many pieces which were entirely new in Andover and all were the best obtainable. There were prettily colored rockets and baloons which floated off in the air. There were also a few set pieces, fountains and flower pots making a most beautiful display of colored light.

The committee who had this part of the program in charge are deserving of much credit for the way in which the display was shown.

The fireworks concluded the program for the day and the spectators went to their homes shortly after 10 o'clock after having enjoyed one of the best Fourth of July celebrations ever held in Andover.

The committees who had charge of the several departments of the celebration were: Executive committee, William C. Crowley, William B. Cheever, John A. Morrill, Henry A. Bodwell. William G. Donald: fireworks, Joseph F. Cole, William F. Gledhill, Walter I. Morse, William J. Burns; prizes and badges, Nesbit G. Gleason, William A. Allen, George L. THE PEARL AND THE PUMPKIN

KLAW AND ERLANGER'S SUPERB NEW ENGLAND SPECTACLE AT THE COLONIAL THEATRE, BOSTON, BEGINNING MONDAY, JULY 17.

At the Colonial theatre, Boston, beginning Monday evening, July 17, and for a period of six weeks, with Saturday matinees, Klaw and Erlanger's superb imaginative spectacle, "The Pearl and the Pumpkin", will be presented. Monday, July 17th, will be the first time on any stage of this great production which, with its hundreds of people, its many wonderful scenes, its bizarre and beautiful costumes, and its ingenious electrical and mechanical effects, will undoubtedly prove a tremendous theatrical sensation. Besides being the biggest spectacle of American origin ever made, it will be the first of all in which New England scenes, characters, and incidents are portrayed. Paul West, a New England journalist, now editor of the New York World, has written "The Pearl and the Pumpkin" in conjunction with W. W. Denslow. The work is a most remarkable one—a Simon-pure Yankee spectacle that will more than favorably compare with the costly Drury Lane productions that have been brought to this country from London in the last few years. A fortune has been expended in the realization of all the ingenious ideas of West and Denslow, and the gigantic production has been in preparation for over a year. The title, "The Pearl and the Pumpkin", is one to provoke curiosity. What has a pearl to do with a pumpkin? It takes ten scenes of the most magnificent description to satisfactorily explain this to the audience; some of them laid among the green hills of Vermont, some at the bottom of the sea, and others in the charming island of Bermuda. Quaint types of New England character figure throughout the play, with still quainter types new to the stage, among which is the remarkable Corn Dodger. And one of these New Englanders is changed into a pump—but that is the playwright's secret.

"The Pearl and the Pumpkin" will undoubtedly attract people from all over New England to Boston during its six weeks' engagement at the Colonial theatre. The scale of prices for the extraordinary attraction is $1.50, $1.00, 75 cents and 50 cents. Out-of-town orders for seats, accompanied by post office or express orders, will be filled from now on for any performance. JUST THE CHANGE.

Alexander MacDonald a country resident of Woodlawn, who has been sojourning through the daily grind for weeks under the burden of a story that has threatened every moment to overcome his secretiveness.

His wife is a rosy-cheeked true English woman. The pair have been married only two years, and have one son, born a few months ago. News of the arrival of his lairdship was sent by cable to Mrs. MacDonald's father in London, and so worked upon that kindly Briton's emotions that he took a steamer forthwith to pay his daughter and his grandson a visit.

Grandpa came through to Chicago in safety. On his arrival he answered the inquiries of his relatives as to his traveling experiences with an air of wisdom that quickly set at rest any misgivings they may have had as to his ability to take care of himself. He told with much glee of his dealings with a Gotham cabman who transferred him from the steamer dock to the railway station.

When grandpa reached the Grand Central and had his train for Chicago pointed out to him, he was much pleased with his progress and his success in eluding American sharks, about which he had heard much. Having in mind the strictly enforced London ordinances against overcharges by cabmen and forgetting for the moment his new surroundings, he put his hand into his pocket, drew forth a fist full of silver and, holding it out to the jehu, said:

"'Ere, my boy, just take out your fare."

In this way, he sagely reasoned to himself, he would avoid the unnecessary exposure of his ignorance of American rates and coins.

Grandpa had reached this stage in his narrative when MacDonald and his wife began to look a little anxious for their uneasiness was lost on the visitor who chuckled as he concluded the story by saying:
